

PLAN IT. RUN IT. REVIEW IT.

12-WEEK GOAL PLANNER

Twelve weeks is long enough to change something and short enough to stay serious. Pick a few goals, define the weekly actions that drive them, and review every week.

Name: _____

Start: ____ / ____ / ____ End: ____ / ____ / ____

HOW TO USE THIS PLANNER

1. Pick 1–3 goals. Fewer is better. Each must be measurable and have a finish line inside 12 weeks.
2. Break each goal into weekly actions. Things you control: the workouts, the calls, the pages written — not the outcome.
3. Plan the week. Every Sunday, fill in the week's plan page: priorities, weekly actions, and where each one lives on the calendar.
4. Run each day. Each day has its own page: a top priority, up to five actions to check off, and morning and evening reflection questions.
5. Score the week. The week's final page adds up your daily actions automatically (open the file in Acrobat or another full PDF reader). 85% or higher is a winning week.
6. Review honestly. Name what worked, what didn't, and one adjustment for next week.
7. Finish with the 12-week review. Then pick the next 12 weeks.

Rule of thumb: if the week didn't happen on the calendar, it didn't happen. Put every action on a specific day and time.

STEP 1

VISION & WHY

WHERE DO I WANT TO BE IN 12 WEEKS?

In 12 weeks I train four days a week and can run a 5K in under 28 minutes. I pray and read Scripture every morning before my phone. My wife and I have had 12 real date nights. The project I have been putting off is launched and ten people are using it.

WHY DOES THIS MATTER? WHAT DOES IT COST ME IF I DON'T DO IT?

This is who I told myself I would be. My family needs a man who keeps his word to himself first. If I do not do this, I will be having the same conversation with myself 12 weeks from now, with less energy and less trust in my own word.

WHAT COULD GET IN THE WAY, AND WHAT WILL I DO ABOUT IT?

Late nights and my phone in bed: phone charges outside the bedroom and lights are out by 10pm. Work interruptions: I block 90 minutes on the calendar and turn notifications off. Missing a day: never miss twice. I log it and do the next action.
